CAS Faculty Senate President Alan Fox opened the meeting and announced a slight modification to the agenda, which was then approved.

John Morgan suggested some changes to the minutes of the October 19, 2020 meeting after which senators approved them.

John Morgan reiterated the need for a CAS faculty member to serve on the University COCAN.

Alan Fox noted that the CAS P&T Committee only had 21 cases before it this academic year vs. 45 from AY19/20. He speculated that this might be due to delays caused by the COVID-19 pandemic and the administration’s recognition of the need to be more flexible in its expectations for faculty meeting deadlines related to P&T.

Alan Fox then introduced Dean Pelesko who made a power point presentation. Main topics were furloughs/reductions-in-time for staff and updates on FY21/AY 20-21. Of prime concern was continued efforts to meet the CAS budget shortfall and planning for FY22.

Appended below is a copy of Dean Pelesko’s power point presentation.

John Morgan raised concerns about how staff furlough days (December 21-23), which coincide with submission of final grades (due December 22) for the fall 2020 semester, might affect the latter.

Dominique Guillot asked if cessation of Morris Library’s subscription to Elsevier was permanent or temporary and when that would begin. Senator Morgan commented on the high cost of subscribing to Elsevier and how other institutions were terminating their subscriptions. Dean Pelesko indicated that he would look into Senator Guillot’s question.

Senator Darryl Flaherty noted that about 9% of undergraduate classes taught at UD this semester met in person and wanted clarification that 16% of these (plus 4% of graduate courses) would do so in spring 2021.

Alan Fox then called for a collective vote of approval for all course proposals listed on the Consent Agenda (included on the meeting agenda). The vote to approve was unanimous. Items for fuller consideration included a proposal for a Chinese Studies honors degree, a BS and MS in Fashion Design and a BA in Jazz and Improvisation. All received unanimous approval.

New business included a statement by Senator James Angelini on behalf of the Communications Department expressing concern about UD’s transparency and messaging on in-class teaching in spring 2021 and how that might impact UD’s reputation in a negative manner. Senator Angelini asked whether a statement from the CAS Faculty Senate addressing this matter might be considered. There followed some discussion among senators. In accordance with rules regarding “new business” the senate did not vote on this.

Other new business concerned whether it might be worthwhile to invite President Assanis and Provost Morgan to the next CAS Faculty Senate meeting to discuss matters of interest.
